Kunstler Asks New Riot Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — An attorney for five men convicted of inciting riots the week of the 1968 Democratic National Convention has called a speech by the chief prosecutor in the case evidence that the five deserve a new trial.

William M. Kunstler said in a statement Friday that the speech shows that U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran, "owes both the defendants and the law an obligation to ask the U.S. Court of Appeals to reverse their convictions at once and grant them a new trial."

Foran said in a speech Thursday night to a high school parents club that police "got even" with antiwar protesters in a bloody confrontation Aug. 28, 1968, at Balbo Drive and Michigan Avenue.

Kunstler said the statement was inconsistent with the position Foran and prosecution witnesses took at the trial. He said it was the government's contention that "the demonstrators had attacked the police that evening and that the latter were interested only in clearing the intersection to restore normal pedestrian and vehicular traffic."

Both men appeared on television programs later Friday to amplify their remarks.

On ABC television's Evening News, Foran said it was the government position "throughout the trial that some of the police had gotten out of control."

"We even indicted one of them—the only one we could identify," Foran said.

In New York, on WOR-TV's Barry Gray Show, Kunstler said Foran had "just announced publicly that he knew the demonstrators didn't attack the police."

"This raises all sorts of legal and ethical problems," Kunstler said. "The main event in this trial is still ahead of us."

Across the state 160 miles to the west, a black glob of asphalt petroleum smeared more than three miles of shore along the St. Marks River.

Spokesmen for the State Department of Natural Resources in Tallahassee said the tar-like substance apparently had been dumped by a passing vessel in the nearby Gulf of Mexico.

The asphalt substance was washing ashore in an area maintained as the St. Marks National Wildlife Preserve. Authorities said more than two dozen oil-soaked birds had been found by Friday night.

At Jacksonville, commercial shipping interests ought to clean up a three-mile-long oil slick near the port facilities on Blount Island. Under supervision of the Coast Guard, two skimmers were in operation late Friday and three more were to be added today.

Cambodia Frees 5 U.S. Sailors

SAIGON (AP) — Five U.S. Navy men detained by Cambodia since Feb. 5 when their patrol boat strayed across the Cambodian border were set free today, the U.S. Command said.

Military spokesmen said the sailors were handed over to U.S. officials in Phnom Penh and flown to Bangkok, Thailand, where they boarded a plane for Saigon.

The sailors were detained after their patrol boat strayed across the Cambodian border about 100 miles west of Saigon at a point where the Mekong River crosses the border.

The five sailors were identified as: James B. Hunsucker, Las Vegas, Nev.; Anthony J. Deluca, Chicago; Michael B. Walker, Neptune, N.J.; Thomas P. Glenn, Greenwood, S.C.; and Gary R. Lehner, Kansas City, Kan. All are enlisted men.

Griffin Predicts KO Of School Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin says he doubts Southerners have the muscle to gain approval of three House-passed proposals to slow school desegregation in spite of their new allies.

The proposals to prohibit forced busing and to allow freedom of choice in school attendance were in the form of amendments to a $19.4 billion education money bill making its second trek through Congress after being vetoed by President Nixon.

Virtually identical amendments in the vetoed bill were watered down by a 52-37 vote last December.

Griffin had predicted a similar outcome in today's voting.

The three school desegregation amendments remained the major hurdle to final Senate passage of the slimmed-down health-education bill after the Senate approved a formula Friday for cutting out another $347 million.

The House cut $365 million from the original $19.7 billion total last week. Although the bill is still $232 million over revised Nixon budget requests he is expected to accept it.

Approved by a 45-40 roll call vote Friday was an amendment by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., that permits President Nixon to cut two per cent from the total appropriations, but no more than 15 per cent from any one program.

Approval came after Cotton announced that the administration had authorized him to promise cuts would not be made in two of the most politically attractive programs—aid to school districts heavily impacted with federal employees and Hill-Burton hospital construction funds.

Democrats, who are expected to make a major issue of health and education cuts in this election year, accused the President of hypocrisy and inconsistency in offering the pledge.

They pointed out that when Nixon vetoed the first health-education measure in January, he told a national television audience it was inflationary largely because the Senate had boosted a $200 million request for impacted area aid to $520 million.

Republicans, however, said the President was simply displaying a willingness to compromise.

Dionne Quint Found Dead In Her Apartment

MONTREAL (AP) — Marie Houle, one of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets, was found dead at the age of 35 Friday after a brief illness. The cause of death was not known and an autopsy was to be performed today.

Mrs. Houle's brother-in-law, Germain Allard, went to her Montreal apartment and with a policeman and doctor broke down the door when she didn't answer.

"I was checking on her because she had not phoned since last Monday, Allard said. "She usually phoned every day."

At their home in Callander, near the tourist and rail center of North Bay in northern Ontario, the quint's parents, Oliva and Elzire, now in their 60s, were reported to be "very upset."

The first of the famous quintuplets to die was Emilie, who suffocated during an epileptic seizure in 1954.

Surviving are Annette of Saint Bruno, Que., the wife of Allard, a finance company executive; Cecile, separated from her husband Philippe Langlois and living in Quebec City with her four children; and Yvonne, who is unmarried and lives in Montreal.

Marie was separated from her husband, Florian Houle, whom she married at the age of 24. Their two children had been placed in a foster home operated by nuns before her 35th birthday, last May 28.

Aide Kidnaped In Guatamala

GUATEMALA (AP) — Kidnapers of Guatemala Foreign Minister Alberto Fuentes Mohr gave the government 24 hours today to free a university student in exchange for Fuentes Mohr's release.

The kidnapers' message said Fuentes Mohr, 42, who was seized as he rode home from work Friday night, will be released when the student is turned over to the Mexican Embassy in Guatemala City.

In their ransom message to Guatemala radio stations, the kidnapers said they are members of the Armed Rebel Forces, a Marxist-leaning group that police said attempted to assassinate the director of the Central American country's election council Tuesday. He was wounded slightly.

On Thursday, three persons, including a candidate for Congress from the ruling Revolutionary party, were shot and killed as they put up campaign posters on a downtown street.

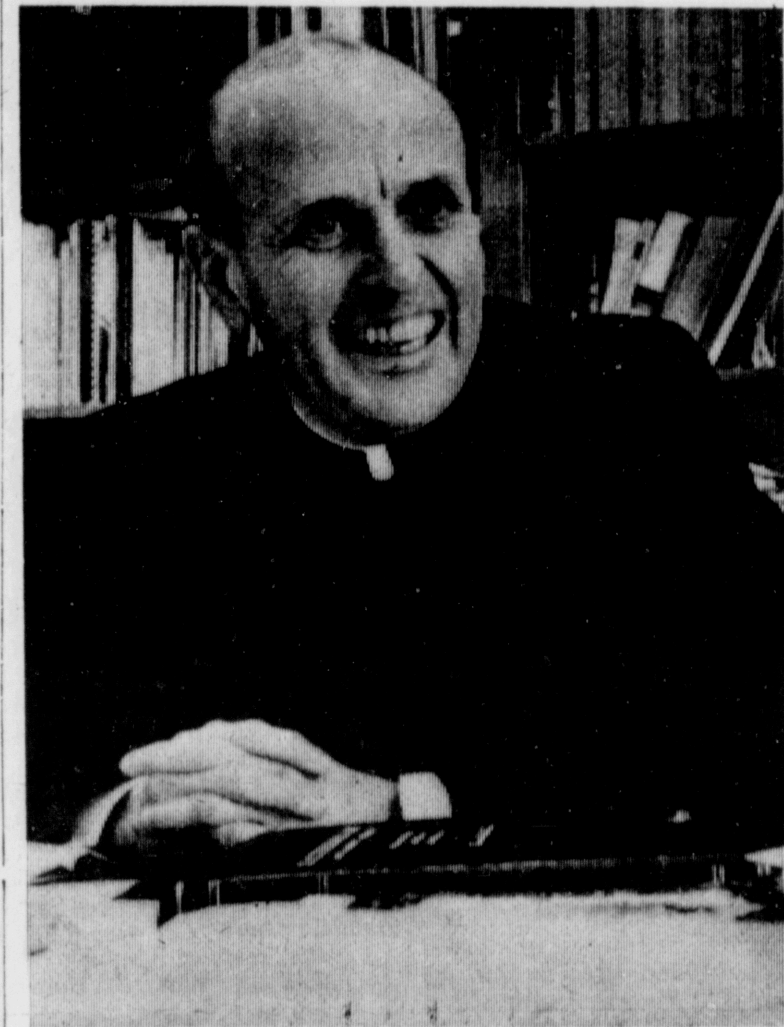

But police said the shooting was a gun battle between factions of the Revolutionary party and the right-wing National Liberation Movement.

Fuentes Mohr was seized as a chauffeur was taking him to his home Friday after a meeting with election observers from the Organization of American States.

A government spokesman said the kidnapers forced Mohr's car over to the side of the road and ordered him into their car.

Today's Chuckle

"There's a great deal of talk about apathy in our universities. So 1,000 students were asked if they were apathetic: 44 said yes, 69 said no and 887 had no opinion."

The bustling Catholic priest will be opposing veteran Rep. Philip J. Philbin in the September Democratic primary. Fr. POW List Due, Eaton Predicts

PARIS (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton said today he is confident the North Vietnamese soon will release a list of U.S. prisoners they are holding and allow the captives to write their families.

Eaton said this after conversations with Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's chief peace talks negotiator, and Le Duc Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese politburo and a special adviser to the delegation.

"I am confident they will release the list of prisoners and allow them to communicate," he said. Asked at a news conference to forecast when this would be done, Eaton said, "I think it's imminent."

U.S. diplomats at the Paris peace talks have tried without success for more than a year to obtain such a list from the North Vietnamese.

Eaton said it was his view that the prisoner question "is greatly exaggerated" and was being exploited by the Americans for propaganda purposes.

The self-styled diplomat, who visited Hanoi last December, also played down the importance of the U.S. condition that the withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam be matched by a pullout of North Vietnamese units from the South.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have insisted on two basic points at 56 fruitless sessions of the peace talks: the total, rapid and unconditional withdrawal of U.S. forces and the formation of a coalition government in Saigon to replace the regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Byrd Suggests Abolishment Of Demo Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia says it might be a good idea to abolish the Democratic National Committee, since it doesn't have a chairman or any money.

From that point, Byrd, No. 3 man in the Senate Democratic leadership, says the party itself might be eliminated along with the Republican party in a realignment to liberals and conservatives.

Byrd acknowledged Friday that his suggestions, which he at one point termed half facetious, are not likely to get anywhere.

The party's executive committee meets Sunday to discuss the chairmanship, which Oklahoma Sen. Fred R. Harris vacates next Thursday.

"Half facetiously and perhaps half with some justification, I think it ought to be abolished," Byrd said. "It is without a chairman and it is without policy and it is $8 million in debt."

"... Of course we're going to have to have some kind of a national organization, but I think that we ought to perhaps start all over," Byrd said.

His counsel seemed somewhat contradictory, since he said at one point the party should fuse together its various factions and viewpoints, and at another that it ought to be supplanted by a new political lineup based on common ideology.

"If we wanted to be perfectly honest about this thing, perhaps we ought to have a realignment of parties and get rid of the labels Democratic and Republican and have a conservative party and a liberal party," Byrd said. "... Then we would know more of what we were talking about."

Byrd described himself as a moderate conservative.

Nine-Story Fall Kills 2 Workers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two construction workers plummeted nine stories to their deaths when parts of the upper floors of an apartment building under construction collapsed Friday.

Their bodies were found beneath tons of concrete slabs on the ninth floor. The men were working on the top of the 18-story building when the cave-in occurred.

The building is part of a federally financed low-income project being built in the city's East Liberty section.

The coroner's office said the two men killed were Arthur Miller and Raymond Baxter, employees of the company engaged in the construction job. Their ages were not given.

"The only thing I heard was a boom," said Ellis Jefferson, a laborer working on the 17th floor when the collapse occurred.

Jefferson said 25 to 30 men were working in the building at the time of the cave-in, but officials said all had been accounted for.

VC Shoot Down 3 Helicopters

SAIGON, (AP) — Viet Cong troops shot down three American helicopters, waged terror attacks in Saigon and Da nang and shelled 16 towns and Allied bases, military spokesmen reported today.

Ground fighting was light during the past 24 hours, ranging from rice paddies on the western edge of Saigon to the demilitarized zone.

Battlefield communiques reported eight Americans killed and 38 wounded. Eleven South Vietnamese civilians and six soldiers were killed and seven civilians and 31 soldiers wounded.

Allied forces claimed killing 96 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops.

Three other Vietnamese civilians were killed and 19 wounded by American artillery shells that slammed into a village 28 miles southwest of Da Nang Wednesday night, the U.S. Command said in a delayed report. A spokesman said six 105mm rounds hit Phu Da village during a mission in support of South Vietnamese troops. He said American and South Vietnamese officials are investigating.

The U.S. Command said only 11 of the 16 rocket and mortar attacks reported during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today caused casualties or damage. One American was reported killed and 17 wounded in the shelling, which dropped off by more than 50 per cent over the previous 24-hour period.

Rioters Freed

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals today ordered the seven riot conspirators freed on bail pending appeals from convictions on charges of inciting rioting and contempt of court.

During the search for the bodies, workers shored up the interior with truckloads of timbers, and police ordered a halt to rail traffic for several hours on nearby tracks to cut down on vibrations.

Officials said they would investigate the cause of the collapse.

Workers using searchlights continued removing the wreckage early today to insure against another collapse.

Action In Laos Irks Sen. Moss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, joining the growing Senate demand for an explanation of U.S. activities in Laos, says President Nixon should begin to "Laotianize" the fighting in that Southeast Asian country.

"If the war in Vietnam can be Vietnamized," Moss, D-Utah, told the Senate Friday, "then this same process should begin in Laos before it becomes any more difficult."

Other senators who criticized the administration's handling of the Laotian situation during the day included Sens. Stuart Symington, Fred R. Harris and Robert C. Byrd, all Democrats.

Byrd's statement drew the most attention because he has not been among the outspoken war critics.

Noting that 100 American pilots have been lost on missions over Laos and at least 25 other Americans killed there, Byrd said "Before the casualty figures rise further, the American people should be told the extent of our country's involvement in Laos."

"War has raged in various parts of Laos for over 20 years," he said, "and our large-scale entry into the struggle at this time could serve to open up a new front in the Vietnam war."

"We should weigh very carefully the possible consequences of such a move," Byrd added. Symington, D-Mo., renewing his criticism of administration refusal to permit release of the transcript of his subcommittee's hearings on Laos, said "The American people deserve to have the facts on this growing war situation."

French President Enjoys U.S. Tour

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — French President Georges Pompidou plunged repeatedly into crowds to shake hands during his 37-hour visit to Northern California.

The president, who leaves today for Chicago, is on an eight-day tour of the United States.

He joined tourists at the Golden Gate Bridge and at Coit Tower atop Telegraph Hill Friday pointing out well-known spots to his wife, Claude.

Pompidou also spoke at a Commonwealth Club luncheon, visited the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center, and was host at a reception for members of the French-American colony here.

7 Injured, 114 Arrested In Varied Disturbances

By The Associated Press

Seven persons were injured by rock throwing and 114 arrested Friday night as California National Guardsmen armed with bayoneted rifles brought relative calm to the Santa Barbara collegiate community after four days of violence.

About 150 of 600 guardsmen called to active duty by Gov. Ronald Reagan cordoned off the troubled suburb of Isla Vista near the campus of the University of California at Santa Barbara. Only residents were permitted to enter the area, populated mainly by students of the university.

4 Policemen Hurt

Two demonstrators, four policemen and a motorist suffered minor injuries from sporadic rock throwing, but incidents were few compared with three previous nights of turmoil.

In Buffalo, N.Y., student militants threw a fire bomb into the administration building of the State University of New York early today, touching off a blaze which caused minor damage.

Court Injunction

The university obtained a court injunction forbidding continuance of a campus uproar which began Wednesday when students sought to enforce demands for a greater voice in operation of the school.

At Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass., about 150 black students abandoned late Friday seven campus buildings which they had taken over to protest what a spokesman called "academic terrorism and atrocities."

Santa Barbara Quiet

In the Santa Barbara college suburb, Jeeps and trucks crowded with National Guardsmen cruised in formation through the streets. Guardsmen wearing steel helmets, protective vests and combat boots stood watch at nearly every corner in the mile-square sealed off zone. Soldiers and demonstrators were both soaked by rains. About 9,000 of the university's 13,700 students live in Isla Vista.

The demonstrators say they are motivated by a general dissatisfaction with campus and community life, the "capitalistic establishment" and the war in Vietnam.

Banks Receives Threat On Life

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Chicago Cub baseball star Ernie Banks was expected to be in seclusion today following a telephone-call threat on his life.

Banks was whisked off the practice field Friday, canceled a speaking engagement Friday night and was not expected to engage in workouts today following the threat.

FBI agents here and in Chicago were investigating the matter.

An anonymous caller phoned collect to Cub headquarters in Scottsdale Friday, first asking for Cub Manager Leo Durocher, then General Manager John Holland.

Pitching Coach Joe Becker answered the call and when the operator identified the caller as Larry Jackson, retired former Cub pitcher, Becker accepted the call.

The caller told Becker, who immediately knew it was not Jackson, that "I've got a gun and I intend to use it on Banks."

Becker tried to keep the caller on the line to learn more of his intentions but the caller hung up. The operator confirmed the call originated in Chicago.

Becker relayed the information to Durocher and Holland, and Banks was called off the practice field.

Banks later said "I understand they (FBI) have grabbed a guy named Lawrence Bankhead in Chicago. He's supposedly an ex-convict and the FBI told me that he insists he didn't make the call, but he says his brother-in-law has been making a few calls."

Mead Pulp Mill Project To Take Until Early '72

The new kraft process pulp mill being planned by Mead Corp. for the Escanaba Paper Co., is not expected to start production until the first part of 1972, according to the annual report to stockholders of Mead Corp.

The 650-ton-per-day pulp mill "will be ready for production early in 1972," the report said.

Previously, the company had said that the "target date" for completion of the new pulp mill at Escanaba was in the second half of 1971.

Two Years To Build

O. C. Christiansen, Escanaba manager, said the change in the target date for production is a reflection of the date of the start of construction. Originally, he said, the company had hoped construction could get underway in the fall of 1969.

With two years required to build the mill, that would have put it in operation in the last half of 1971. Now, with construction expected to get started this spring, the two years in construction would push start of production into 1972.

The annual report of Mead said the Escanaba Publishing Papers center is the company's answer to the demand for lighter weight publication grade papers because of growing postage costs (based on weight).

Ideal Market Entry

"Increases in postal rates in 1968, 1969 and 1970 have added 22 percent, or as much as $1.8 million per 100,000 tons of paper mailed, to the costs of a publisher with five million subscribers."

"Escanaba was planned to enter the market at an ideal time, when no competitive paper machine was scheduled and lightweight papers were more and more in demand," the report said.

"Mass magazines like 'Life' were already using 36-pound paper (the figure refers to the weight of five hundred sheets of certain dimensions). Many foresee the use of even lighter papers, provided type can be kept readable and pictures sharp. Escanaba is intended to fulfill these aims. The premium quality which had been forecast by research based on pulp and processes to be employed has been confirmed in operation."

Set Tough Goal

"Mead Papers" marketers set themselves a tough goal: to have three-fourths of the new machine's 1970 capacity sold by start-up day. They did. Their customers' roster is an impressive cross section of American magazine publishing.

"High quality papers for books, especially text and reference books for which light weights are important, will also be produced by the Center. In time, a fourth of the machine's capacity will serve book publishers."

"Phase Two in the creation of the Mead Publishing Papers Center is underway at Escanaba this year. A 650-ton-per-day pulp mill will be ready for production early in 1972."

"The prospect of the new pulp mill, employing the kraft pulping process, has caused concern among some of our Escanaba neighbors. They are worried that the penetrating odor traditionally identified with kraft mills would accompany the Mead development. A citizens' Save Our Air Committee was formed to express their concern.

Pollution Concern

"Mead had anticipated this concern from the first stages of planning," the report continues. "We set out to engineer a mill that would be a welcome neighbor and not a nuisance. We evaluated many partial solutions to odor elimination, selected the best from already proven components, and combined them in a new system that would meet our goals."

"We have already installed $2 million worth of pollution treatment equipment at Escanaba. In the broad lagoon behind the quarter-mile long structure which houses the big, new machine, clarified water from the plant is recharged with oxygen before it returns to the river."

"When the pulp mill is built, well above a tenth of its multi-million costs will be expended to keep the skies of Escanaba fresh and clear and to clarify the large volumes of water which will pour through the plant."

The report said last year Mead's first billion dollar year with total sales of $1,032 million. Mead's earnings increased from $1.61 to $1.72 per common share — a 6.8 percent gain over 1968. The company during the year also voted a 100 percent stock dividend.

Mead Requests Building Permit

LANSING—The Mead Corp. of Chillicothe, Ohio, has applied to the Michigan Department of Public Health for a permit to construct a new kraft process pulp mill at Escanaba.

In announcing receipt of the application, Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission Chairman John C. Soet said today that a hearing before the commission on the firm's request has been scheduled for 10 a. m. Tuesday, March 17, at the Capitol Park Motel in Lansing.

Filing of a construction permit application by Mead was not unexpected. The firm had announced its intention to build a kraft sulfate process pulp mill at its Escanaba operations months ago.

Soet said the decision of the commission to schedule a hearing on the permit application was prompted by the public interest and controversy that developed in the Escanaba area once Mead's plans had been disclosed. Impact of the two basic issues involved—the area's economy and a fear the kraft plant may generate an odor of hydrogen sulfide—have been hotly debated.

Another matter of interest to the Escanaba area is scheduled before the commission at the same meeting. The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is slated to submit a progress report on its efforts to control dust emanating from its ore dumping and stockpiling operations. The commission will hear this report at 1:30 p. m.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Mary C. Oshe, 232 S. 22nd St., failing to yield the right of way; Dean K. Preseau, 1414 1st Ave. N., failing to exercise due care; Donald R. LaForest, Gladstone Rte. 1, speeding; James A. Bushey, 1408 N. 23rd St., improper lane usage; and to Gail J. Lancourt, 324 N. 14th St., failing to yield the right of way.

Legislators Ask U.P. Doe Season Halt

All five Upper Peninsula State Representatives (John D. Payant, R-Kingsford; Charles H. Varnum, R-Manistique; Dominic J. Jacobetti, D-Negaunee; Russell R. Hellman, D-Dollar Bay; and Robert W. Davis, R-St. Ignace) and Sen. Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) have introduced a resolution designed to eliminate the shooting of does and fawns in the Upper Peninsula for the 1970 season.

Because of the great concern by thousands of sportsmen that the deer herd in the Upper Peninsula has decreased, the three Republican and three Democrat legislators feel that steps should be taken now to determine whether or not the present deer management program of the Department of Natural Resources is in the best interest of the herd.

The resolution asks the DNR Commission to declare a moratorium on the hunting of antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula for 1970 as an experiment in the preservation and restocking of the deer herd in the Upper Peninsula.

The resolution is to be presented to the DNR Commission. The legislators feel that the Resolution will be given favorable consideration by both the House and Senate and are optimistic that the Commission will go along with the resolution and declare the moratorium.

Quake Recorded In Alaskan Isle

PALMER, Alaska (AP) — A strong earthquake, measured at 6.4 on the Richter scale, shook Adak Island in Alaska's Aleutian chain early today.

There were no reports of damage or injuries on the island, site of a U.S. Navy installation. The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey seismograph station here reported the quake was felt at 12:52 a.m. AST and its epicenter was about 100 miles northeast of Adak.

Only One Bad Cut In 53 Years, Retiring Escanaba Barber Says

By BOB GREGG

After working 53 years as a barber, Bill Casey is retiring. The sage of Delta County barbers, whose shop is located at 1517 Sheridan Rd., has been cutting area residents' hair since he opened his first parlor in Wells in 1917.

"In those days I had a combination barbershop-poolroom in the old I. Stephenson Boarding House. I was in business there until 1935. That's when I moved to my Sheridan Rd. location and I've been here ever since," Casey said.

Barbering in the "good old days," as Casey calls 'em, was a very profitable business. "We used to charge 35 cents for a haircut and 15 cents for a shave. That was big money in those days," he said. "Why, those fellows that worked at the lumber mill only made 35 cents an hour."

Only Victim

Casey said that in 53 years of barbering he cut a customer badly on only one occasion. "And I got him pretty good," Casey said with a stern look.

"I told the guy to stop talking, but he went right on moving his mouth and finally I slashed him across the chin," Casey said. "He's still got a scar from it."

Casey's barbershop is an unusual place. It's something like Larry's Bar in Kipling without the booze.

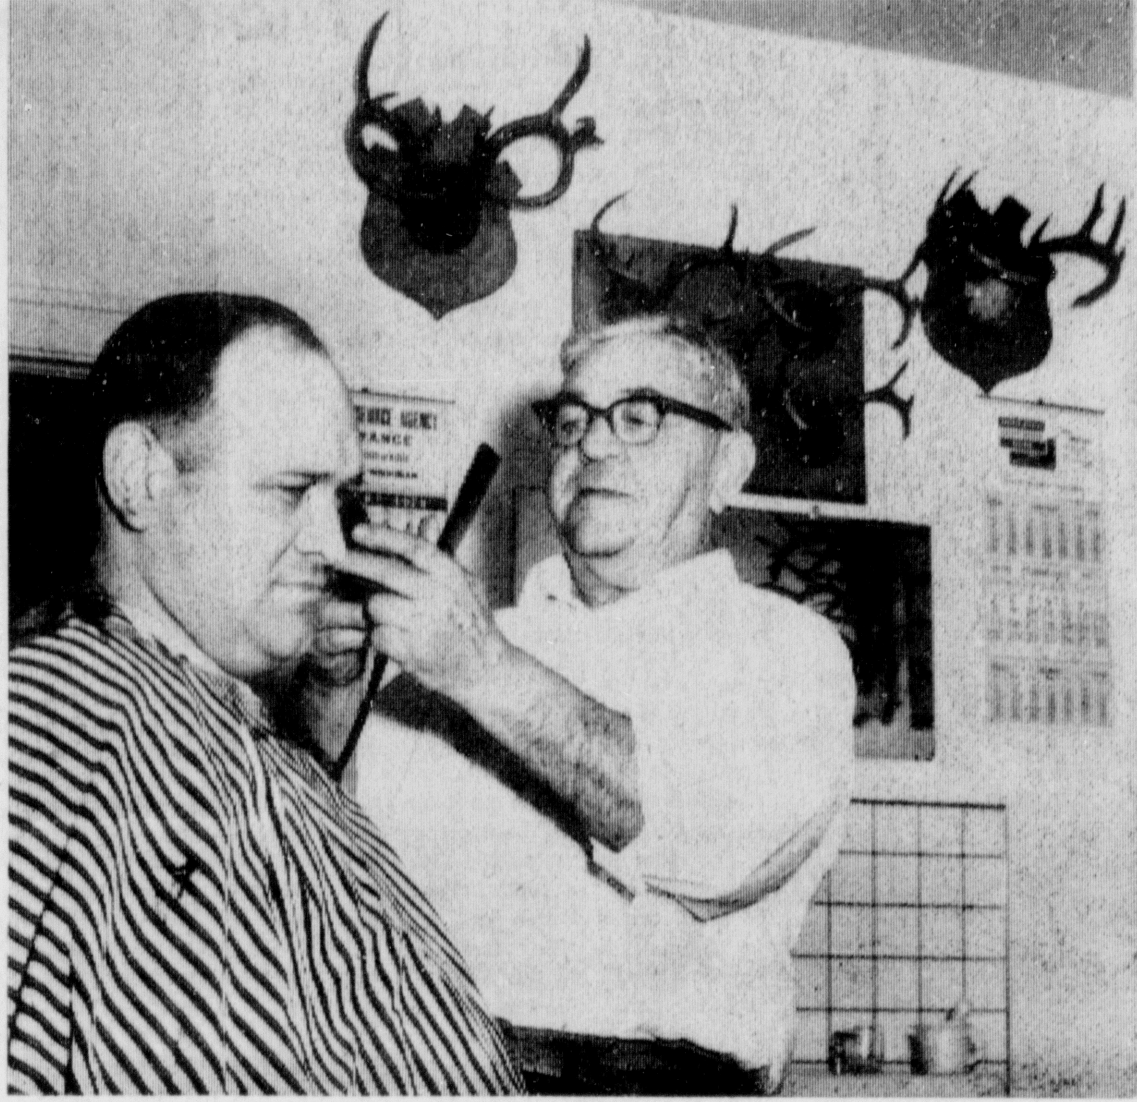

About a dozen sets of deer antlers line the wall along with some of the biggest calendars you will ever see.

A 1935 radio of undistinguishable make still delivers a beautiful, clear sound as you enter the shop. Bobbie Gentry is singing. Best of all, a big Canadian moose with bulging plastic eyes stares down at each customer as he sits in the barber chair.

Casey tells me the big moose was shot by his son Jim during an Ontario hunting trip. "I've bagged a couple of moose myself," says Casey. "In five Canadian trips, our hunting party has gunned down eleven nice-sized moose."

Casey said his hobbies are fishing and hunting. "Now that I'm through cutting hair that's all I plan to do," he said.

"I've built this little pond near my cabin up by Northland and stocked it with brook trout so anytime I want to go fishing it's right at my doorstep," Casey said. "I also plan to do some angling in the East and West Branch of the Escanaba River."

53 YEARS — Bill Casey, a barber in the Escanaba area for 53 years, trims the hair of John Picard, 1419 N. 16th St., during his final day of barbering. Casey, a hunting and fishing enthusiast, says he plans to go moose hunting next fall and spend this coming summer fishing for trout. "I'm also going to spend a lot of my time at my cabin near Northland just plain taking it easy," he said. (Daily Press Photo)

Casey's last customers were John Picard, 1419 N. 16th St., Escanaba, and Ernest Harrison, 949 Sheridan Rd., Escanaba. Harrison said he has been a "Casey Customer" for almost fifty years.

"Say Ernie! What are you going to do now that you don't have a barber?" Casey asked Harrison. "Now that you're retiring I guess I'll go see that woman downtown," Harrison said jokingly.

Big Changes

"You know there have been a lot of changes in the barber business since I started 53 years ago," Casey said. "In 1917, almost everyone got shaved in a barbershop. Now hardly anyone does."

According to Casey, when he started cutting hair in 1917 his average workday consisted of at least 12 hours cutting, shaving and shampooing. "Things aren't like that anymore. Today's barbers got it made," he said.

Casey said electric and safety razors put an abrupt end to the shaving business. I didn't mind that though," he said. "It took me as long to shave a fellow as to cut his hair and I didn't make as much money."

This was Casey's last day, and already he was looking ahead. "As soon as the weather gets warmer I'm going to take my easy chair, put it next to my pond, throw out my line and wait for the trout to hit," he said.

I hope Casey catches a lot of trout. Anyone that can live through all the stories that are told in a barber shop in 53 years deserves what he wants in retirement.

John Caswell, a young barber from Escanaba, plans to re-open Casey's Barbershop next Monday. A new generation follows in the steps of the old master.

Settlement

FLINT (AP) — A realty company has settled out of court a suit against Consumers Power Co. The suit was one of three which charged negligence in a fire which destroyed a Kroger grocery store in Flint in November, 1968.

The suits alleged the fire was caused by faulty electrical equipment.

The realty company which owned the building housing the store settled for $17,500. Two other suits, claiming $330,000 in damages are pending in court.

Court Assaults Must Stop Says Vice President

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the assault by revolutionaries on the nation's courts must be stopped if justice is to be preserved in America.

Agnew spoke to about 1,900 Republicans at a $75-a-plate dinner Friday night. He was interrupted often by applause.

"The trial of the Chicago Seven or Eight was a stormy footnote to the 1968 Democratic convention," Agnew said. "It could have been a test of the constitutionality of the 1968 Civil Rights Act."

Instead, he said, "The script was written for drama, not for justice and the outrageous courtroom conduct totally obfuscated the constitutional question."

"Our courts don't need lectures from self-appointed social critics or the antics of guerrilla theater," the vice president said. "Within the courtroom dissent must be orderly ... the rule is persuasion, not intimidation."

Agnew characterized today's radicals as "totally negative and nihilistic with perverse ideas of being like the founding fathers."

"Those who smash windows and seize universities destroy by injustice whatever is just," said Agnew.

The vice president, commenting on the burning of a bank in California, said, "As Americans know, those who burn banks can bank on being burned."

Agnew hastened to add, "I mean by a fair trial of a jury of their peers, so you don't take me literally."

There is a great danger in romanticizing the role of the revolutionists and thereby diminishing the efforts of conscientious citizens, he said.

No Think Snow

The time has come for all good Upper Peninsula to stop "thinking snow."

In three short weeks, officially, it will be spring. And if anyone makes one more smart crack about the Upper Peninsula having nine months of winter and three months of poor sledding, let's hope it isn't printed in this space.

Three more weeks.
 The signs are unmistakable.
 High school basketball tournaments are about to start and teams of the professional National Basketball Association and National Hockey league have reached the point where the short season (playoffs) is longer than the regular season.

Puddles on Loren Jenkins Dr. in Ludington Park are over Grampa's running board.
 The sun shines past 5 o'clock.
 Potholes on city streets have begun filling up with water — from the bottom.

A 1958 Chevrolet set a record of 27 feet eastbound on the U. S. 2 and 41 "ski jump" near the Bark River-Harris elementary school.

The Detroit Tigers have another rookie lefthander who throws just like Whitey Ford and a new shortstop who will make Detroiters forget Ray Oyler.

The road sign a snowplow must have knocked down two months ago has emerged from its snowy burial on Lincoln Road.

A kite was observed flying over Stephen-son Ave. near Ludington St.

Retail stores are having "sales" on snowblowers and shovels; Easter candy is on the shelves. Magazines are featuring bathing suits.

Of course, there are some good things about winter. It's just that at this time of year they're hard to remember.

For one thing, it only comes once a year. Secondly, it goes away.

They also say — and don't some wise guy write a letter asking who — that every snowflake is different. How else, except during a snow storm could every citizen regardless of financial capability have the same opportunity to accumulate original art creations? Most people had trillions of them piled up on sidewalks and driveways. Unfortunately, most also failed to appreciate the wonder of the five-foot drift dumped by the friendly, neighborhood snowplow driver behind your car.

And then there was the opportunity to go snowmobiling or skiing. What more enjoyable means to be frostbitten or break an ankle could there be?

All of that is going to end before too long. Wonder if the lawn mower, 95 in the shade and mosquitos will seem any better four months from now?

Finnished....

In these days when almost everyone is up tight over demands of minority groups and protests, it's great to know that at least one minority group hasn't lost its sense of humor in viewing the rights of minorities — the Finnish employees of the Virginia, Minn., Board of Education.

According to Albert O. Carlson, who was born and reared in Republic and now lives in Virginia on the Mesabi Range, the Finnish school employees in Virginia tucked tongues in cheek and drafted the following list of demands for policy changes to be made by the school board:

1. the immediate hiring of two Finnish administrators, one from Wuori Township and one from Finn Town (that part of Virginia where Finns first settled 75 years ago).
2. Coffee in the pop machine; both black and with cream.
3. Vending machines to offer silakka, kala-mojakka and maitoa; orange and red pop.
4. Vellia ja juustoa to be served in the cafeteria every day.
5. Paavo Nurmi's birthday to be a paid holiday.
6. A sauna bath to be built in each faculty lounge.
7. Cedar boughs to be supplied upon requisition.
8. A 30-minute sauna break each day.
9. School telephone personnel must say "Hyva Paiavaa" on all incoming calls.
10. A statue of Sibelius to be erected on the front lawn of the junior high school building.
11. A large Lapland reindeer to be erected on the front lawn or above the door of the senior high school building.
12. Juhannusjuhla to be a legal holiday with double pay.
13. The following courses to be instituted immediately: Beginning Finnish, advanced Finnish, Finnish history, viipukekka instructions, Suomalainen polka dancing, sauna rakensu.
14. At the time for consolidation, Palo and Toivola (small country towns northeast of Virginia) are to be included in the Virginia School District.
15. New vacation benefits: After one year's employment, one week in Kaleva Island, Long Lake; after five years employment, two weeks in Hancock; after 10 years employment, three weeks in Helsinki.
16. If these demands are not accepted by the time the Virginia Employees Association is ratified, we will organize a protest and march around the parking lot.

Peninsula Potpourri

Despite delays caused by the late arrival of structural steel and a work stoppage resulting from a union dispute, work is continuing on the new Grand Valley Hospital in Ironwood. The modern medical edifice should be ready for occupancy by next Jan. 1, administrator Frank Drazkowski Jr. said.

Beginning Of War's End Came In Julich Assault

By JAMES TRETHEWEY
 Of Panax Newspapers
 (One of a Series)

The Rhine River crossings north of the Industrial Ruhr a month later were considered of greater importance, but the beginning of the end of the war in Europe actually was signaled by a gigantic assault on the ancient city of Julich exactly 25 years ago.

As it did in the invasion of Normandy in Northern France June 6, 1944, the Army's 29th Infantry Division once again became the spearheading unit in crossing the lesser known Roer River and seizing Julich in preparation for clearing the plains west of Cologne.

Originally scheduled for Feb. 9-10, the Roer crossing was effected on Feb. 23, following one of the most massive artillery barrages unleashed against the Germans during World War II. By coincidence, the date was the birthday of the 29th's commander, Maj. Gen. Charles H. Gerhardt, and also this writer's. I have observed many happier anniversaries, but I remember best the one in 1945 when I stood in the darkness and heard cannons of all sizes set up a deafening crescendo of sound in attempting to hammer all resistance out of Julich.

Sky Lighted

The thunder of guns being fired by corps and division artillery units, mortar crews and tanks, the flashes from gun muzzles and exploding shells lighting up the sky provided a 45-minute "birthday celebration" which I can never forget.

The Roer River flows peacefully today and Julich has been rebuilt during the quarter-century since it was pounded so mercilessly.

But on that day in 1945 the river was the scene of violent activity as engineers under gunfire built footbridges for soldiers to cross and the ragged, ruined city was being taken by 29th Division troops.

The reason for the huge barrage which preceded the attack—it was without a doubt one of the most intense ever provided for an assault by a single division—was because Julich was astride an important road which had to be taken to permit the American advance to continue and because it was defended by one of the most fantastic fortifications ever erected in Europe.

144 Feet Thick

An old citadel, standing on the site where Roman soldiers first built a massive fort in the days of Julius Caesar, was strategically set on high ground. The immense installation taken 25 years ago was erected in the 16th century and had been considered impregnable.

Its great walls, with a thickness of 144 feet, had defied constant shelling and bombing during the three months the 29th Infantry Division had sat across the river at the gates of Julich.

Once across the Roer, the city was captured with comparative ease, despite harassing fire by German units in that vicinity. The citadel was bypassed the first day, but on Feb. 24 was placed under siege by a company from the 116th Infantry Regiment and flame-throwing tanks from the 739th Tank Battalion.

The big doors of the citadel finally gave way under the barrage of 75-mm. shells fired by the tanks, then rifle fire from the 116th unit charged across the undamaged causeway and through openings blasted in the thick walls of the fort.

Found Only Remains

In the center of the fort, they found nothing but the smashed remains of buildings hammered by artillery and planes. Only a few Germans were taken prisoner. The rest had fled.

The fall of the citadel cleared the last remaining enemy resistance in Julich.

The following day, the 29th Division swung northeast toward Duesseldorf instead of

Letters To The Press

STANDARDS

I have never written a public letter in answer to any protest to the state aid to non-public schools up to this point. But I feel the letter written by Mrs. Betty T. Millard in the Feb. 26 issue of the Escanaba Press is so false that at least one voice ought to be raised. Mrs. Millard contends that she received from Rep. Charles Varnum the information that aid to non-public schools would allow "any idiot who wants to go out and start a private school to teach the overthrow of the U. S. Government can do so and apply for this tax money." This is a ridiculous statement unless we have no confidence in the education department of the State of Michigan.

For any school, public or non-public, to receive money from the State, standards of certification of teachers and approval of the curriculum, health and safety standards must be had from the State. We follow this policy now. Teachers at Holy Name High School and the Catholic elementary schools in our area, all are certified by the State of Michigan. Our schools are inspected to the same degree and at the same intervals as the public schools. Our schools are given accreditation by the University of Michigan or the North Central Association as are the public schools, or they are not in operation. This would also be true of any future schools which might be built and operated. We welcome these standards which protect our children from malpractice.

Parochial would not mean supporting "any idiot who wants to start a school" or "everything from Black Panthers to almost anything you can think of" unless they were approved by the education department of the State of Michigan, which I believe is impossible, because I am sure toward Cologne. The sweeping advance continued almost unchecked, German soldiers at times surrendering in wholesale lots. The attack moved so swiftly many civilians had no chance to flee, but hid in cellars until the Americans took over.

Advancing steadily across flat roads and open fields, the 29th Division moved into Munchen-Gladbach — the largest city in Germany to be captured up to that time—on March 1.

Leisure For Month

And for the weary soldiers of the 29th—in almost continuous action since D-Day—that was all the fighting for nearly a month. They were put in Ninth Army reserve, a time of leisure and safety, while the Remagen bridge over the Rhine was being seized and a bridgehead established to permit American, British and Canadian soldiers to plunge toward the heart of Germany.

It wasn't until the end of March that 29th Division units were ordered back into action to help clear the industrial Ruhr Valley of enemy pockets of resistance and to prepare for a sweep east to the Elbe River.

the standards of the State will protect all of us from this.

In addition to religion, we offer to the children of this area the same standards of education in all subject fields as the public schools. We are performing a great public service in giving a large segment of children in this community these educational benefits. We believe we should receive some financial assistance for the education in secular fields that we give these children, because we are filling the same needs that the public schools would have to, and the parents of our children are paying the same taxes.

If you want to invest six cents in a worthy cause, write to the governor and your representatives in Lansing telling them we want and deserve something better than being treated as second-class citizens who are carrying a double load.

TWO DILEMMAS

During the past week the MEA has had their "hands slapped" and now wish to cover up their conduct by supporting another potentially dilemma.

Approximately three months ago, our Honorable Representative Charles Varnum was made aware of a personal anxiety regarding the MEA. At one time, the Michigan Education Association truly was a friend of education as it pertained to Parent-Teacher and Student. Now that the association has the right to strike, they are by its very nature, self-centered. Therefore, Mr. Representative, "who represents the parent and the student?" During the past week, we saw the fear almost become a reality. Yes, let us tell it as it is.

Now the second dilemma is about to take place. An aroused MEA wishes to place the Parochial issue of Bill 1082 on a ballot. Might I add, "would the Opening lead—king of hearts.

There is much more to this game of bridge than meets the eye. For example, consider this hand played in the 1966 Trials.

At one table South got to three spades on the bidding shown and West led the A-K-Q of hearts, East following once and then discarding two low clubs.

West led another heart, declarer ruffing high in dummy as East this time discarded a diamond. You might think that South would finish down one—since he apparently must lose a diamond and a club—but declarer found a way to make the contract.

At trick five he led a spade to the queen, followed by the five of clubs towards dummy. West could not afford to go up with the ace, which would have made South's task very easy, so he played the nine instead.

Declarer won in dummy with the queen and drew four more rounds of trumps, producing this three-card position:

South now led the king of clubs, forcing West to win with the ace and return a diamond, and the outcome was that South made three spades.

It is interesting to note that East could have defeated the contract had he ruffed the third round of hearts and returned a diamond. This would have nipped the endplay in the bud and ruined South's chances of making the contract. It is furthermore interesting to note that at one table East actually made this play to hold South to eight tricks.

Phyllis Diller-Type Mom Shakes Up Girl

Dear Ann Landers: My mom is easy to get along with and we rarely have an argument. The problem is that she thinks she is Phyllis Diller. When I have kids over, Mom clowns around and acts so crazy it embarrasses me to death.

Last night she came downstairs with her wig on sideways. The guys cracked up. Then she went into a routine they thought was hilarious. I wanted to die.

Mom knows how I feel but it doesn't stop her. She says I am too sensitive, that a mother should be able to do her own thing without getting criticized. What is a girl supposed to do when she has a mother who likes to perform for everyone who comes into the house?—Daughter Depression

Dear D. D.: There's nothing you can do, so accept your mother's kookiness gracefully. Her antics in no way diminish you in the eyes of your friends. In fact, your patience and quiet acceptance of her clowning is a mark of maturity. So you see, it's actually a plus.

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting married soon. My mother and my fiancé are giving me a hard time.

I asked my best friend to be my maid of honor. Bessie always had a bad complexion but in the last few months it has gotten worse. After my mother saw Bessie three weeks ago she said to me, "Please get somebody else to be your maid of honor. Her skin is a mess. She'll ruin the bridal party." I was shocked. My fiancé agreed with Mom. I refused to drop Bessie and we got into a big hassle.

The next day my fiancé called and said his best man had met Bessie at a party and refuses to stand up with her because "she is such a dog." When I reminded my fiancé that his best man was not exactly Mr. America, he bellowed, "Well, at least he won't kill anybody's appetite."

I am heart sick and don't know what to do. Mom says if Bessie is a real friend she'll understand. My fiancé called me a stubborn mule.—Torn Up

Dear Torn: I find it hard to believe that a mother would encourage her daughter to behave so heartlessly. And your fiancé sounds like a creep. Ditto his best man. Stick by your principles, honey. You are right and they are wrong.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I work together in our own business. We eat out five nights a week. My brother owns a small cafe with a great dance combo. We eat there most of the time.

Rosie loves to dance. The minute the music starts Rosie rolls her eyes, snaps her fingers, swings her head—anything to advertise the fact that she has rhythm. Naturally guys come over and ask her to dance. She'll dance with anybody.

I don't think this is lady-like and have told her so but she says it's O. K. because I'm along and no harm will come from it. What do you say?—Two Left Feet

Dear Lettie: If you don't approve, that should settle it. On occasion, however, invite another couple along so Rosie can get some dancing in.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin, with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

All arrangements have been completed for the novelty entertainment which will be given at the North Star hall. A committee on arrangements, consisting of twenty-five members, has been working for the past two weeks and has prepared an interesting and highly entertaining program of events for the evening. A decoration committee has been appointed and the hall will be prettily decorated for the affair.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

As you gaze at this scene of snow, ice, and leafless trees, your mind may skip ahead and picture green grass, abundant foliage, and a rippling stream. The very thought brings happiness. Spring makes the difference.

As grass, trees, and streams are fettered by winter, so some lives are bound by doubt, unbelief, lack of faith, and false ideas. When they come in contact with the Church, the love of God sets them free. They see new beauty in everything about them, and others see new beauty in their lives. As spring brings all nature to new life, so God's love makes human beings happier, gives them life more abundant.

No matter how strong the fetters which bind you, freedom can be yours through the Church and the message it brings to all. Why not accept that freedom today?

"Can Still See Beauty," Said Beautiful Star

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Her name meant "beautiful star" and Tatum O'Neal, a Paiute Indian, said she kept beauty at the forefront of her life—all 120 years of it.

Mrs. O'Neal, who died Thursday, was born on the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada, crossed Death Valley as a backpacker and was a frequent bit player in early cowboy-Indian films. But at her death, she was confined to a wheelchair in a rest home, the victim of a fall that broke her hip.

She was believed by federal authorities in Los Angeles to be the oldest woman receiving Social Security, but she never made this claim personally.

Mrs. O'Neal's collection of memorabilia showed she was born July 26, 1849 in the Alabama Hills near Lone Pine, Calif.

Three years later, when her mother died, the family retreated into Death Valley, with Tatum on her grandmother's back.

She met and married James Mulligan, a cook for the railroad. He taught her to speak and read English.

"We had five wonderful years together until he was killed in a railway accident,"

Her second husband was a French-Canadian saloon keeper who died of knife wounds trying to break up a fight in his tavern.

Two of the five children born of that marriage survive. They are Edwin, 67, and Christine Rafferty, 62.

Mrs. O'Neal played in approximately 40 motion pictures whose stars included Tom Mix, William S. Hart and Clark Gable.

In one of her last interviews, Mrs. O'Neal deaf and blind in one eye, told a newsman: "I have one good eye and I can still see beauty; it's easy, if you look for it."

HAPPINESS, FOR 11-year-old Dinh Thi Vinh Nui of South Vietnam, is recovering from a heart operation at Swedish Hospital in Minneapolis on Wednesday. Nui wrinkled her nose with a big smile when someone said she had a pretty pony tail hairdo. Nui is one of three Vietnamese children who survived heart surgery at the hospital. The other youngsters died following heart operations to correct defects. The children were brought to Minneapolis by funds raised by a group of U. S. Marines and the Rev. Gordon Smith of the United World Mission in Vietnam. (AP Wirephoto)

Mark Waters was a chain smoker. Wonder who'll get his office?

Too bad about Mark. Kept hearing the same thing everyone does about lung cancer. But, like so many people, he kept right on smoking cigarettes. Must have thought, "been smoking all my life...what good'll it do to stop now?" Fact is, once you've stopped smoking, no matter how long you've smoked, the body begins to reverse the damage done by cigarettes, provided cancer or emphysema have not developed. Next time you reach for a cigarette, think of Mark. Then think of your office — and your home.

Indians March On Lansing In Bid For Help

LANSING (AP) — A group of some 15 Northern Michigan Indians gathered at Lansing Friday to demand that the Governor's Commission on Indians be more responsive to the needs of Indians in the state.

They met with Richard Helmbrecht, administrative assistant to Gov. William Milliken.

Helmbrecht told the group the governor was sympathetic to their problems but suggested they should be ironed out at a meeting with the full commission.

Albert B. LeBlanc, president of the Bay Mills Indian Community near Sault Ste. Marie, asked for the removal of commission chairman William LeBlanc, his cousin, of Detroit, and commission executive director Herman Cameron, his wife's uncle, from Sault Ste. Marie.

General complaints were made that the two were not leading the commission properly. Helmbrecht said others defended the two, saying they were doing the best job possible under the circumstances.

The delegation asked that the commission be an independent group separated from the State Department of Social Services. They also asked that only Indians be appointed to the commission.

At present, the governor's aide said, there are six or seven Indians on the 11-member commission.

Other general requests were for improved health services, housing and education for Michigan's Indians.

Seaway Hurting Great Lakes Says State Economist

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Pollution, high water and the financial failure of the St. Lawrence Seaway are grave problems confronting the Great Lakes area says Ross J. Wilhelm, University of Michigan business economist.

He said most people know about the pollution but few are aware of the damage done to shorelines and lakeside cottages by a three-foot rise in Lakes Michigan and Huron and a four-foot rise in Lake Erie in the past year.

"Unfortunately for the cottage and land owners, such a risk is uninsurable and the federal government and most state governments offer no aid," he said.

Speaking on his radio program produced by the U-M Broadcasting Service, Wilhelm said larger ships of the near future will not be able to clear the 27-foot channel depth and lock sizes.

Bucks Score Easy Win Over Pistons

By The Associated Press
The Milwaukee Bucks hop, skipped and jumped all over the Detroit Pistons to an easy 131-113 victory in National Basketball Association play Friday in Milwaukee.

The Bucks avenged last week's loss to the Pistons by breaking away from a 22-19 lead and rambling to a 73-57 margin at halftime.

In other NBA action, Baltimore downed Atlanta 114-107, Phoenix rapped Boston 134-125, Philadelphia slugged San Diego 125-111, Los Angeles beat Chicago 111-101 and Seattle dumped San Francisco 107-99.

Milwaukee's Lew Alcindor sparked the Bucks' first half surge with 23 points. The Bucks increased its advantage through the last two periods until the margin of safety was so great coach Larry Costello cleared their bench.

Alcindor finished with 33 points to lead both teams. Teammates Jon McGlocklin added 26 and Flynn Robinson 23.

Top scorers for Detroit were Jimmy Walker with 21 and Dave Bing with 19.

The Baltimore Bullets didn't back down when it came to trading baskets or punches with the Atlanta Hawks. Baltimore's Jack Marin got a career high of 41 points but interrupted his shooting assault with a shoving match with Atlanta's Bill Bridges.

When the Hawks and Bullets started pairing off, Hawk Gus Johnson, nursing pulled muscles in his stomach, got off the bench and engaged big Walt Bellamy.

Marin poured in 18 first period points on nine of 12 from the field and then became involved in a shoving match with Bridges which was followed by some punches.

Earl Monroe supported Marin's effort with 34 points and seven assists before fouling out. Joe Caldwell led Atlanta with 22.

Phoenix stung Boston with Connie Hawkins and Dick Van Arsdale combining with 66 points. It was the Suns' third victory in five meetings against the struggling defending NBA champs.

Van Arsdale poured in 37 points and Hawkins 29 with each of them scoring 10 points and Gail Goodrich adding 11 during a third period spurt that put the game away. Don Nelson and Jo Jo White had 23 apiece for the sagging Celtics, who are in danger of missing the playoffs.

Bill Cunningham scored 20 points and pulled down 23 rebounds leading Philadelphia past San Diego.

Elgin Baylor matched his season's high of 42 points and scored 12 of them in the final period, helping the Lakers pull away from Chicago.

Player-coach Len Wilkens poured in 17 of his 22 points in the second half, helping Seattle past San Francisco.

Bruins Dump Stanford; Start New Win Streak

By The Associated Press
Penn's Quakers won their 17th straight and UCLA's Bruins started a new winning streak, but look at those Richmond Spiders.

The Spiders, a 17-game loser, edged into the college basketball picture Friday night with the nationally-ranked Quakers and Bruins.

Penn whipped Columbia 71-57 to win the Ivy League championship and a spot in the NCAA championship tourney. UCLA rebounded from its upset defeat at the hand of Oregon last week, to rout Stanford 120-90.

And what did the lowly Spiders do? They upset George Washington 77-69 to gain the final of the Southern Conference championship tourney against Davidson tonight. Davidson moved up by routing William and Mary 78-54.

Penn, now 24-1, had to come from behind to beat Columbia in the feature of a tripleheader at the palestra in Philadelphia.

Columbia, led by Jim McMillan's great play, came from 10 points back to hold a 31-30 edge at halftime.

Corey Calhoun, held to two points by McMillan in the first half, scored the first five points of the second half and seventh-ranked Penn was ahead at 50-47.

Calhoun finished with 13 points while McMillan was high for the game with 33. The Columbia star got 21 of the 33 in the opening half.

In the other games of the tripleheader, Temple whacked Rider 107-74 and J. Joseph's Pa., shaded Lehigh 65-63 in the start of the Middle Atlantic Conference playoffs.

UCLA, toppled out of the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll after its loss to Oregon, rolled over Stanford with ease on its home Pauley Pavilion court.

The Bruins, now 22-1, were paced by Curtis Rowe's career high of 30 points.

Top-seeded Davidson, No. 11 in the AP poll, piled up a 59-31 lead in crushing William and Mary in the Southern Conference semifinals at Charlotte.

Southern California beat California 90-82, Long Beach State defeated San Diego State 74-55, Seattle overcame Denver 79-61, Brown beat Harvard 79-72, Princeton humbled Cornell 65-58, Dartmouth edged Yale 69-66 and Duquesne trounced Steubenville 81-51.

Unkown Gilbert Takes Doral Lead

MIAMI (AP) — Arnold Palmer was standing alone under a tree, idly watching a group of radio and television men interviewing a player.

"Who's that?" Palmer asked. It was Gibby Gilbert, who just happened to be leading the $150,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament.

But Palmer wasn't alone in wondering "who's he" about the obscure assistant pro at nearby Hillcrest Country Club who came out of the pack with a second round 68 and took the 36-hole lead at 138.

Gilbert, who has played only on a part-time basis for two seasons, had a one stroke lead over Mike Hill and Jim Colbert going into today's third round. Colbert, whose only tour victory was in last year's Monsanto Open, had a 70. Hill, younger brother of 1969 Vardon Trophy winner Dave Hill, had a 69.

Larry Hinson had a 71 and was alone at 140.

Dave Marr and Jack McGowan, the first round leaders, slipped to 75s on the lake-lined, 7,028 yard, par 72 blue monster course at the Doral Country Club and were tied at 142 with Dan Sikes and British Open Champion Tony Jacklin. Jacklin had a 72 and Sikes a 73.

Palmer remained in contention at 144, but some of the other well-known names fell victim to the demanding layout. Frank Beard, 149, PGA Champion Ray Floyd and defending champion Tom Shaw, 150, Tom Weiskopf and Gardner Dickinson, 151, Bob Murphy and Doug Sanders, 152, Julius Boros, 153 and Bert Yancey, 158, all failed to make the cut for the final two rounds.

Gilbert, 29, has been a pro for six years and has played only on a part-time basis on the tour for two years. He hasn't even come close to winning anything, with an 18th his highest finish. He has career earnings of only $4,566 on the tour.

Gilbert left the tour last September and said he wouldn't be back.

"But I've been playing the best golf of my life since then—I've made about $10,000 in local tournaments down here—and I've decided to play the full tour on a full time basis this year."

He did very little wrong in his second round. He birdied the first hole from 10 feet and took his only bogey on the fourth, where he missed the green. He got that stroke back with a two-putt birdie on the par five eighth.

He ran in putts of 12 and 10 feet for consecutive birds on 14 and 15, and finished it off with a curling 25-footer on the final hole.

P&H's Biggest Challenge: To Meet Schedules

"Our most immediate problem is that of meeting production and shipping schedules," reports Anthony L. Necci, general manager of Harnischfeger Corp.'s construction equipment plant at Escanaba.

Necci is completing his first month as general manager of Harnischfeger plant producing truck cranes. His comments, reported in the P&H Noon News, indicate confidence in the operation here and its potential.

"The physical layout leaves little to be desired. We have more than adequate square footage under roof, a large outdoor storage area and an excellent product. As I see it, the potential is fantastic! We would require very little in the way of capital investment to more than double our present output," he said.

Noting that the most immediate problem is meeting production and shipping schedules, Necci continued:

"Fortunately, the labor force has a healthy, enlightened attitude and is eager to do a good job. This willingness gives me no reason to doubt that we have what it takes to be number one!"

"In the long haul, however, we cannot be satisfied to meet production and shipping schedules. We must meet and surpass these schedules to build customer confidence and, hopefully, expand our product line."

With the physical layout and the skilled workers here, "I see no reason why we can't produce more truck cranes than our sales people can handle. When we reach that stage, I'd like to see new product lines introduced in our shop."

Of military contracts, Necci added:

"The military market is still available to any manufacturer who can meet shipping schedules and produce 'uncompromised quality under a tight umbrella.'"

"Cost plus contracts are a thing of the past! The government is no different than any other customer. They want a quality product, delivered on schedule and at the lowest possible cost! It would be a shame if we lost this market by default!"

Of future military orders, Necci commented in part:

"We've got a big job ahead of us and it won't be easy to stay out in front. It will take the best efforts of every man in the plant to show Uncle Sam we've got what it takes — and there's no doubt in my mind we'll do just that."
